More info...

Sometimes what's politically irresistible is economically nonsensical, as we may soon be reminded. The Obama administration, desperate for revenue and spotting an easy target, is proposing three hefty tax increases on business. If the administration gets its way, the result will be bad news for all Americans.

Business fraud in Scotland soars (BBC News)

Scotland has seen a 450% rise in reported cases of business fraud in the first six months of this year according to the accountants, BDO Stoy Hayward.
